CURRICULUM VITAE

Name: Ms. Ruth Nthenya Wambua

Profession / Training: Computer Science

Email Address: rwambua@uonbi.ac.ke / ruthdeshy@gmail.com

Education:

2011-2013   Master of Science in Computer Science, School of Computing and Informatics, University of Nairobi.

2003-2007   Bachelor of Science in Computer Science, School of Computing and Informatics, University of Nairobi.

1998-2001   Kenya Certificate of Secondary Education, Precious Blood Girls Secondary School – Kilungu.

1990-1997   Kenya Certificate of Primary Education, Unoa Primary School.

Employment / Experience Record:

Year: February 18 – March 1, 2013
Attended: Train the Trainer Programme organised by Ripa International in Kenya
Course Elements: Qualities, skills and behaviours of a great trainer; Types of learning and learning preferences; Setting learning objectives; Andragogy; Kolb learning cycle; Training design and aids

Year: May 23 – July 21, 2012
Position: Trainer, ITES-BPO Certificate, School of Computing & Informatics, The University of Nairobi, Kenya
Responsibility: Teaching a technical unit on Office Productivity Tools.

Year: August 2009 to Present
Position: Senior ICT Officer (MIS), The University of Nairobi
Responsibility: Software Developer and System Analyst at the University of Nairobi; Responsible for various University System analysis, development and implementation. MIS (Management Information Systems).

Year: March 08 – April 04, 2010
Position: PHP Symfony Trainee, Jimma University, Ethiopia
Responsibility: Developing software with the PHP Symfony framework using state of the art software engineering principles. Training held at Jimma University, Ethiopia.

Year: April 2008 – August 2009
Position: Retail Agent / Customer Experience Agent, Safaricom Ltd. Company
Responsibility: Dealing with various customer related issues as regards to telecommunication. This involved troubleshooting laptop and mobile problems.

Year: December 2007 - April 2008
Position: Software Developer, Vega Software Ltd. Company
Responsibility: Software Development in Microsoft Dynamics Nav.